GOVERNMENT
CONSTRUCTING
BIGGEST MILLFormer Island Man Writes
of Activities in Government Aeroplane Construction.

DOUGLAS, June 29.—Fred Henson, for several years steward at the Treadwell mess house, now a successful merchant at Port Angeles, Wash., in a letter to his father, United States Commissioner John Henson at this place, tells of what is said to be the most gigantic undertaking by the Government in the line of aeroplane lumber production in the United States.

At a point forty miles back from Port Angeles, on Lake Crescent, and toward the Olympic Mountains, the Government is erecting what will be, when completed, the largest sawmill in the world and which will be used exclusively for the purpose of cutting spruce for aeroplane construction for use in the ozone and azure that intervenes between Germany and the firmament of Heaven.

The vast prairie country contiguous to the foothills of the Olympic Mountains contains billions of feet of the finest spruce in America and Mr. Henson writes his father that 2,000 experienced woodsmen are now engaged in cutting it down and getting out logs for the big sawmill which is being rushed to completion as rapidly as possible and which will have a capacity of over one million feet of lumber daily.

A railroad 42 miles in length, a branch of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, is being constructed to the new mill and a system of feeder tracks will be built throughout the timbered region to facilitate the work of getting logs to the mill.

The United States Government is in charge of the mammoth undertaking and will conduct it until the end of the war when the industry will be taken over by a private corporation, presumably the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad Company, which is known to own much of the timber land in that section.

The fact that the Government is going so extensively into the spruce lumber business bears out the belief that reports to the effect that future warfare on Germany will be made mostly from the air are true. Also, one million feet of lumber daily will permit of the construction of a fleet or flock of aeroplanes within a short time that will almost shut off the sunlight from the land of the Hun.

DRAWING FOR PLACE
IN TREADWELL RACES
HAS BEEN SETTLED

TREADWELL, June 29.—Last night at the meeting of the Treadwell Fire Department, the drawing for place in the celebration events for the Fourth of July races was fixed by the committees in charge, the teams to be run in the following order:

Machine Shop, first; Ready Bul- lion, second; Store, third; Douglas No. 1, fourth; Douglas No. 3, fifth; Foundry, sixth.

The races are to take place on the Douglas baseball grounds on the morning of July 4th, and will be a wet test with four lengths of hose rolled out by the runners, coupled to the hydrant and water thrown through the nozzle over a certain mark.

Teams from both Treadwell and Douglas were out on the grounds last night throwing the hose and getting a line-up on positions, distance, etc., and it is expected that several teams will be out tonight practicing wet tests, each member of six contesting teams being anxious to annex either the $100 first, or $50 second prize money offered by the sports committee for the fastest time made.

ONLY ONE MASS TOMORROW

DOUGLAS, June 29.—There will be but one mass tomorrow at the Douglas Catholic Church, which will be held at 8 o'clock in the morning.

AT THE LIBERTY

DOUGLAS, June 29.—An up-to-date and out of the ordinary feature will be shown at the Liberty Theatre Sunday and Monday nights. It is a Paramount production in five parts entitled "The School for Husbands," featured by Fannie Ward. It is a story of a young married couple of the great city, where the husband shows too great a liking for the bright lights, and horse racing, while the wife remains at home and tries to economize. The little wife at home is too plain for her spouse's liking and he becomes interested in better dressed and more fashionable women. How the wife finally begins to "dollar up," after her husband has lost everything in the stock market, and finally making him realize what a fool he had been, make a most interesting story. There is a Keystone Comedy in two parts, featured by Hank Mann, entitled, "His Bread and Butter."

RAIN WON'T STOP THE SHOOT TOMORROW FOR THE ISLAND RED CROSS

TREADWELL, June 29.—Everything is coming along fine for the Red Cross shoot tomorrow at the Treadwell Gun Club grounds—even the rain is coming fine—but Manager Bradley has given assurance that if the rain continues, workmen will construct frames upon which canvas will be spread and the exercises can go on with comfort and those in attendance will be kept perfectly dry. The trap house and shooting platform is being put in the best of condition and all will be in readiness for the shoot at 12:30 tomorrow afternoon.

The ladies are having charge of the program tomorrow as well as agreeing to have plenty of refreshments on hand. A prize is being offered for the best lady shooter in the 15 bird event, also a prize for the best score made by any boy under 16 years of age. The Red Cross ladies appeal to all shooters and hunters who have shotgun shells on hand to donate them to the Red Cross fund, or any donations of ammunition from the merchants will be greatly appreciated.

Everyone should make it a point to be on hand tomorrow and bring all the shells possible. You will enjoy the sport and help the good cause.

SALE NETS $1,500

DOUGLAS, June 29.—Approximately $1,500 was raised on the Island yesterday for the War Saving Stamp fund. The first Territorial Bank reports $410, Elmer E. Smith, $219, Guy Smith, about $300, including the pledges to pay until January, 1919. The Treadwell Store and postoffice from Treadwell and Douglas have not yet reported, but it is estimated that at least $1,500 will be raised.
